California Farm Bureau Supports Roosevelt Plan

San Francisco, April 5—Sixteen of California's 20 members of congress, in messages received by the California Farm Bureau federation, have pledged their support to President Roosevelt's farm relief bill. Alex Johnson, secretary of the California Farm Bureau federation, in a statement just issued, declares his faith in the leadership of the President to carry the measure successfully through both branches of congress.

"Agriculture is at the crossroads," Johnson said in commenting on the work of his organization and especially the efforts of R. W. Blackburn, who spent several weeks in Washington in conference both with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the President, during the period in which this measure was being drawn up.

President Roosevelt has pledged a new deal and is assuming leadership in a way that is inspiring the country with new hope. Secretary Wallace is a sound thinker and an untiring worker. Agricultural organization leaders have given their best effort and all are cooperating to restore a measure of prosperity comparable with the five year period from 1910-14. Congress has followed President Roosevelt's leadership in a way that has created optimism everywhere."

President Blackburn has been especially enthusiastic over the possibilities for good that the Roosevelt farm relief measure holds. "The enactment of this measure is a first prerequisite to economic rehabilitation," Blackburn wired from Washington, prior to starting back to organize this state's support of the measure.

HUGH CRAMER APRIL-FOOLS KIWANIS CLUB

April Fool! And you're it, was the feature of the day at Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday. Hugh-Dini Cramer, son of D. Harold, was the artist of the hour, having everybody mystified at his cleverness.

Hugh is wondering about that Chinese coin. Very simple. Hal Morton made a good team-mate. Rubber sandwiches are a special delicacy with him.

D. H. Cramer will be the chairman next week, and of course, school will be the topic of the speaker to be announced later.

BEER HERE ON APRIL 7, SAYS BUSY BEE PROPRIETOR

Campbell will not be dry on Friday, April 7, according to Harry White of the Busy Bee restaurant, who reports that he has a license and will be prepared to dispense beer on that day.

The brew will be delivered early in the morning, said White.

Byron Lanphear, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lanphear, well-known in Campbell, is suffering from a broken leg received when the motorcycle he was riding became entangled with the bumper of a car Sunday. Byron is a student at the Los Gatos high school.

Local Churches Plan Series Union Easter Services

The Sunday night service at the Congregational church will begin a series of union church services to be continued through the week. The members of the Congregational and Methodist churches will meet for a sacred musical evening, arranged by the church choir under the leadership of Clarence Robinson.

The program will include several special choral selections. The guest artists will be Miss Helen Kalas and Jan Kalas, accomplished musicians. Miss Kalas will sing "With Verdure Clad" from "Creation" by Handel; "Before the Crucifix," with cello obligato by Jan Kalas, and "Alleluiah" by Mozart. Jan Kalas will play two cello solos composed by himself. They are, "An Evening Reverie" and "Forest Idyll."

April 9 being Palm Sunday, the Rev. J. H. Bennett will have a special message to give to the congregation.

Tuesday evening at the Congregational church, 7:30, there will be another union service. Wednesday evening at 7:30 the union service will be held at the Methodist church. Friday, at 1:30, the members will meet at the Congregational church, and Easter Sunday evening, April 19, the special Easter services will be held at the Methodist church. A special program is being arranged.

"SPORTSMANSHIP," DE GROOT'S TOPIC AT CHURCH MEET

Dudley DeGroot, football coach at San Jose State, spoke on "Sportsmanship" at the evening service of the Congregational church last Sunday.

Mr. DeGroot gave Jesus as an example of a man who lived sportsmanship and quoted various passages from the Bible as his proof. He concluded his talk with the reading of "The Ten Commandments of Sportsmanship" and "The Prayer of the Sportsman."

The meeting, which was in charge of the college group of the Christian Endeavor, was led by Alfred Beer. Miss Muriel Crothers and Miss Annette Merrill sang, "Trees," with Mrs. Crothers at the piano. Stirring anthems were sung by the young people's choir, which included Annette Merrill, Muriel Crothers, Dora Finmore, Phoebe Payne, Bertha Bollinger, Ruby Williamson, Elin Swanson, Ebba Swanson, Elsie Swanson, Evelyn Voge, Noel Voge, Joe Jacobson, Alfred Beer, Chauncey Watson, and Walter H. Stray. They were accompanied by Helen Buck.

Miss Elsie Swanson Hostess to Girl Friends

Miss Elsie Swanson welcomed to her home on Virginia avenue Friday a merry coterie of friends.

The evening's diversions were bridge and jigsaw puzzles. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her sisters.

Present at the Swanson home were the Misses Mary Maxon, Ruth Newton, Ruth Townsend, Miriam Blaine, Evelyn Voge, Elin Swanson, Ebba Swanson, and Elsie Swanson.

Held Defends Bus Schedules At C. of C. Meet

Stating that his company wished to cooperate with Campbell residents in giving good bus transportation to Campbell, J. B. Held, manager of the Peerless Stages company, talked at a chamber of commerce meeting Tuesday night.

Held, who appeared in answer to the invitation of Herbert M. Shadle, president of the civic group, emphasized the fact that the bus service had been reduced because traffic studies showed that travel was not so heavy. He argued that the bus company was trying to make both ends meet, but that it would do its best to accommodate the greatest number of people and would be glad to consider all complaints.

A delegation of business girls, commuting daily between San Jose and Campbell, appeared at the meeting and criticized the present schedule of busses. Miss Eva Mitchell, who read aloud the present schedule, said that working people were forced to wander around San Jose for some time after the arrival of their busses until their business offices opened, no matter whether they were due at work at 8, 8:30 or 9. Miss Myrl Austin declared that the bus schedule accommodated college students but not working girls, and said that many working girls were no longer commuting by bus because the schedules were so inconvenient.

Mr. Held promised to study the question carefully, and said that perhaps the schedule might be so arranged that all working people were accommodated.

Stanley B. Smith, representing the Santa Cruz road district, said that it was erroneous to say that his district had any bus service, since the bus for San Jose left at 1:30 p.m. Held termed this statement quite correct, but said that traffic studies showed that very few people travelled by way of the Santa Cruz road line and that the bus company could not afford to maintain a greater number of busses.

Various complaints were voiced against the recent ruling that all persons travelling beyond the main stop, on Campbell avenue, should pay an additional ten-cent fare. Held stated that this was a railroad commission edict, and declared that since Campbell was not an incorporated town with city limits, some dividing line between Campbell and the next station had to be drawn and that this line had been placed at the Campbell avenue main station. A person desiring to travel further, he said, should purchase a ticket for the next station beyond Campbell, which would cost twenty cents. Otherwise the bus driver, on receiving a ticket for Campbell would be forced to consider the ride from Campbell to a point beyond a new ride, ten cents.

Held said that the ten-cent price for any short distance bus ride was not exorbitant, since ten cents is being charged by all street car companies except those in San Francisco.

Since round-trip tickets are only offered between Campbell proper and San Jose, Held advised all others who wished to save to buy thirty-ride family books.

Incumbents and J. A. Conner Win School Elections

A record vote was polled here last Friday in the election for trustees on the boards of both the Campbell Union High school and the Campbell Union Grammar school. Considerable feeling marked the campaign.

Joseph A. Conner was elected to the high school board with what amounted to unanimous approval, receiving 1,017 votes. Mrs. Louis Shelley, incumbent, filling out the term of E. H. Todd, resigned, defeated Vina M. Lewis 642 to 511. The vote by districts follows:

Cambrian—Mrs. Shelley, 108; Conner, 134; Vina Lewis, 51. Moreland—Mrs. Shelley, 22; Conner, 51; Vina Lewis, 42.

Union—Mrs. Shelley, 32; Conner, 70; Vina Lewis, 38.

Campbell—Mrs. Shelley, 480; Conner, 762; Vina Lewis, 380.

In the grammar school election W. C. Bohnett and J. B. Collins, incumbents, defeated Fred Smith and J. V. Gomes. Collins received 467 votes, Bohnett 463, Gomes 372, and Smith 343.

Roy W. Cloud Reveals Threat In Amendment 2

San Francisco, April 5—Declaring that the passage by the legislature at Sacramento of senate constitutional amendment No. Two, the so called Ingels bill, would result in breaking down constitutional guarantees for school support, with especially serious results in rural districts, Roy W. Cloud, state executive secretary of the California Teachers association, today urged all friends of the California public school system to unite in opposing the passage of the bill.

Under present constitutional guarantees the state supplies $30 annually for every elementary child in average daily attendance, the counties supply a like amount. An earlier move by the Breed bills to eliminate these provisions from the constitution was rejected. By the Ingels bill the mandatory amount to be supplied by the counties may be reduced by local boards of supervisors from $30 to $15 for elementary schools, and for high schools from $60 to $30.

In many counties, especially outside San Francisco and Los Angeles, school districts at the present time are being supported entirely by state and county funds, local conditions making it impossible to raise funds by district taxation.

In certain counties it has been found necessary to increase the county rate of $30 to meet even present school needs. In Mariposa county, for example, the county has been raising more than $70 per child in the elementary school. A reduction of the fixed county charges in these counties would result, Cloud said, in a drastic curtailment of school efficiency.

"The Ingels bill is the most drastic in its provisions of any school measure now before the legislature," said Cloud's statement. "The legislature has already gone on record against any curtailment of the fixed provisions for state school

Henry J. Costa, Local Rancher, Drowned at Beach

Still missing is the body of Henry J. Costa, 25, of New Jersey avenue, who was carried to sea by a rip-tide while clamming with friends at Moss Landing Sunday.

Costa, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Costa, New Jersey avenue ranchers, was accompanied on the clamming expedition by Joseph Simas, Santa Clara, his brother-in-law, and by his young bride, who saw her husband swept to sea while Simas made valiant though unsuccessful effort to save him.

Rescuers in small boats narrowly averted further tragedy when huge waves threatened to swamp their craft.

Friends and neighbors of the young man formed a searching party which has for the past three days been hunting for the body.

Guild Schedules Heavy Program For This Week

The Congregational guild group No. 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Herman Baum, will hold a thrift sale Saturday, April 8, in the store formerly occupied by the Press. Work has been going on at the building this week to get the place in readiness for the sale.

Group No. 2 of the guild will meet at the home of Mrs. C. P. Wellington on Los Gatos road near the Cambrian school Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. D. Norin will be co-hostess.

Group No. 3 of the guild will meet with Miss Jessie Lewis Thursday afternoon.

Richard Shelley's Play, "Swift Justice," To Be Broadcast

Richard Shelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shelley of Cambrian district, this week tastes fame when his play, "Swift Justice," is broadcast over the NBC network from Chicago as part of the program of the "Little Theater on Times Square," at 6 p. m. Friday, April 7.

Mr. Shelley has had several plays published, and broadcast over local stations.

support. This bill is another attack, only of a slightly different nature, on the safeguards for the schools already fixed by the people in the constitution. Its provisions would not only affect the larger counties, but in many of the smaller counties, especially those where taxation revenues are not so heavy or assured, the result would be an inevitable curtailment of school activities, with a resultant lowering of efficiency. In several counties, even now, it has been found necessary to increase the fixed charges of the counties to figures per child running as high, in Mariposa county, as $70 per child in the elementary school, and $120 per high school child in Sierra county.

"With this additional aid denied by the Ingels amendment, schools in counties receiving such aid hitherto will be faced with an actual crisis. The proposed legislation is discriminatory and unscientific."

Current Comment

Jinx seems to hover over America's lighter-than-air craft efforts. A few years ago the Shenandoah, pride of the United States navy, was dashed to earth during a thunder storm in the middle west while on an exhibition tour. The loss of life was tremendous, and the survivors were few.

This week the Akron, recent visitor to the coast and sister ship to the craft which will occupy the Sunnyvale hanger, was forced down on the Atlantic ocean during a storm. The loss of life was great, as is common in the case of major air disasters.

While the loss of life is the first consideration, there is also the item of dollars and cents—several millions of the former, we believe—for every large dirigible built. All charged up to the taxpayer, and to what end?

If these giant ships cannot withstand harsh weather, to what use will they be put in peace time or war time? The heavier-than-air machines seem to "get by" in all kinds of weather, and mostly come to grief through faulty navigation in thick weather. If they must be built, however, let's have them fast enough to outrun a thunder storm.

The Saratoga blossom festival played in luck this year. Prune and cherry blossoms turned the valley into something out of a book, and a charming program was enhanced by the first decent weather in weeks.

The Safe Worker reports that that the American safety movement declared a dividend last year in the form of a nine per cent reduction in accidental deaths—which means a saving of 9,500 lives. Four thousand less persons were killed in auto accidents than in 1931. 1,000 less in home accidents, 2,500 less in industrial accidents, and 2,000 less than in other types of accidents.

This is good news and something to be proud of. But it is only a beginning. Last year we killed 83,000 persons through accidents—and the percentage of accidents that were honestly unavoidable would be close to non-existent. Greatest progress was made in the field of automobile accident reduction, where a 13 per cent decline occurred. Much of this, however, is offset by the fact that there was a 6 per cent drop in automobile registration and a 6.84 per cent decline in gasoline consumption. In all phases of the accident problem, the depression, with its consequent decline in industrial activities, etc., was necessarily a factor in pushing the accident totals down.

Wrong again! Some time ago we predicted that there would be no beer before Christmas—and here we are on the eve of a veritable flood of the stuff. It is not, however, going to balance the budget as was first hoped.

When beer, or rather the revenue from beer, was first considered as a tremendous first aid to federal finances, it was thought that two billion dollars was a not too-generous estimate of what would pour into the nation's coffers as the result of the manufacture of beer. Now we learn that more conservative estimate places the federal government's revenue from beer at five hundred thousand—and a mere drop in the bucket.

COUNTRY WOMEN ENJOY DANCE-SING... PROGRAM MONDAY

The Annual Guest Day of the Country Woman's club was staged Monday in a bower of pink blossoms at the community hall.

To afford a proper setting for the one act play, "Mrs. Busby's Pink Tea," the hall had been lavishly decorated with varieties of peach blossoms, pink columbine, tulips and ranunculus.

The hundred or more guests and members of the club were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Harry C. Smith, who then presented Mrs. Ralph H. Hyde, chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. Hyde in turn introduced Mrs. Paul C. Alexander, chairman of the dramatic section of the San Jose Woman's club, who named the cast of the play that followed. The ladies participating were Mesdames G. E. Blockie, T. P. Mitchell, J. J. Byl, John Drew, Sr., J. Howard Ogier, Jos. W. Ganong, Eva Gamble, C. H. Whitman and Miss Dorothy Griffen, with Mrs. Alexander directing.

The amusing little skit was well presented and thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators.

Mrs. Donald Page sang most charmingly a group of songs, "Sapphic Ode," "If Only A Rose," "Down In The Forest," and responded to an encore with "Look." Her accompanist was Miss Bozena

Kalas.

A social hour was enjoyed during which dainty refreshments were served, and the program was then completed by a group of pupils of Mrs. Vaudine Putnam Sanders' Studio of Dancing and Relative Arts. These numbers were:

Reading, "Sister's Best Fellow," Lois Bohnett; "Rose," Bertha Lee Farnham; reading, "Mia Carlotta," Emily Bohnett; song, "How-Do-You-Do," and Waltz Clog, Richard McCrary; song, "Sweeping the Clouds Away" and ballet dance, Dorothy Taylor; song, "At the Babies' Parade," and parasol dance, Barbara Graham; song and ballet dance, Jean Fickes; Valse Chopin, Lois Bohnett, accompanied by Emily Bohnett; reading, "The Faries," and Kiss Waltz, Barbara Sproat; Faust Waltz, Shirley Mae Ryan; acrobatic dance, Helen Nelson; "Valse Lucile," Emily Bohnett; song, "Little Jimmy Brown" and Amoureuse Waltz, Betty Beatson; military tap dance, Betty Jane Cassingham; song, "Tom Thumb's Drum" and tap dance, Tommie Hazard, accompanied by Mrs. Hazard; Dance of the Dutch Dolls, Betty Berry and Edna May Cook, with Mrs. Bayard Rhodes accompanist.

Other members of the committee who were responsible for the success of the afternoon were Mrs. F. V. Perrott, Mrs. W. C. Bohnett and Mrs. G. S. Robson, and they were assisted in serving by several of the club members.

Among the out-of-town guests were several neighboring presidents including Mrs. Frederick Battee of Union district, president of the County Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Paul J. Arnerich of

We and Our Neighbors club, Mrs. H. R. Roberts, Los Gatos History club, and Mrs. Leroy Anderson, Moreland Good Will club, who were introduced by Mrs. Smith.

Simplified Cooking
BY ELECTRIC TIME CONTROL
BY ELECTRIC TEMPERATURE CONTROL

If YOUR WIFE complains of being tired, or wishes she had time to spend in the garden, perhaps it's because, like so many women she is a slave to her kitchen.

For her good, consider this proposal. Do away with the need for your wife standing by a hot stove in hot summer weather, waiting and watching while meals are being cooked. Ask her if she hasn't wished many times for an electric range with electric controls that do the watching and waiting—give her precious freedom.

More than a million American women have turned to electric cooking. It wasn't that it was a new way to cook, it was a better way that made cooking more simple, more certain. Yes, and food cooked in an electric range tastes better, is more healthful. Less water is used and there is no boiling away of valuable minerals in vegetables, while meats are more flavorful, juicy and tender.

Why not carry out this sensible suggestion that will allow worth-while freedom that means greater health and contentment? See and select the electric range for your home at the nearest P. G. and E. office or in your electric dealer's store. Low prices and liberal purchase terms prevail on this year's electric range models.

False Economy Rapped In Letter To Campbell Press

Campbell, Calif.

April 3, 1933

To the Editor of Campbell Press:

Prior to the meeting of the state legislature, the University of California, recognizing the need for economy, at the suggestion of the state administration, voluntarily reduced its budget for the next biennium $3,000,000 below the budget on which the university has been operating. We are reliably informed that the Assembly Ways and means committee now recommends a further cut of $2,000,000, making a total cut of $5,000,000.

This would cripple essential activities of the university and lower its standards of teaching and its service in a manner requiring years for recovery. This statement as to the effect of the cut is made upon authority of President Sproul and the regents.

These are some of the vital services affecting the people of the state of California if this additional slash of $2,000,000 is made in the greatly reduced budget voluntarily agreed to by the regents of the university.

1. There would be an impairment of all university activities. The budget presented by the regents includes substantial cuts in salaries which are already much less than the average in comparable institutions. Further drastic slashes are likely to prove ruinous, leading to the loss to the University of many outstanding members of the faculty who are its chief strength.

2. Agricultural Extension Service—Among those activities which would have to be eliminated (or so greatly curtailed as to amount to elimination) would be the state wide dairy campaign, saving millions of dollars to the dairy industry; the cost account records, aiding reduction in cost of production; the programs carried on by home demonstration agents making farms more nearly self supporting; the campaign to reduce costs of cultivation and irrigation in orchards, and other vital programs now under way. The number of farm advisors and home demonstration agents would be reduced over half, eliminating in that proportion the agricultural extension work of the university.

3. Agricultural Experiment Station—Sharp curtailment of research activities would be forced, with very drastic reduction in staff, elimination of orchards, live stock and other valuable equipment, and severe curtailment or abandonment of field experiments particularly at Davis and Riverside, as well as in other parts of the state (such as the deciduous fruits field station at San Jose, and the Imperial Valley station at Meloland), would be obligatory.

4. Medical School and University Hospital—Services of practicing

STITCHING CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. W. C. GRIZZLE

Mrs. William Chesley Grizzle, assisted by her daughter, Miss Winifred Grizzle, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Claude Grizzle, entertained members of the Ada Rebekah Stitching club in the banquet room of the I. O. O. F. hall Thursday afternoon. The members enjoyed progressive whist. Refreshments were served at long tables effectively decorated with jonquils, daffodils, pink hyacinths, and fern and yellow and pink candles. Easter favors and refreshments suggested the coming Easter season.

A special guest of honor was Mrs. Willard Whitford. Mrs. Donald A. McQueen presided during the business meeting. The next meeting of the stitching club will be held April 20, and will be a no-host meeting.

physicians and surgeons who are clinical professors would have to be discontinued. Not only would instruction be thereby crippled, but their services rendered to patients in the hospital and out-patients department could no longer be given. The free beds in the hospital supported by the state, used in the instruction of the medical students in various clinics, would be necessarily discontinued. The Hooper foundation, an effective agent in discovering the cause of (and in checking) serious epidemics, would be compelled to discontinue important programs of investigation.

5. Institute of Child Welfare—The institute would be abolished. Involved would be elimination of a series of investigations and experiments of vital importance to the physical, mental and moral welfare of children from pre-natal days to maturity.

6. Bureau of Public Administration—The services of the bureau would be practically eliminated, meaning termination of projects concerned with the relation between federal, state and local government; the administration of criminal justice; a study of delinquency and crime in California; problems of police administration; and other pressing and practical problems.

7. University Extension Division—All teaching rooms and halls would be eliminated at once, and the administrative salary budget would be so reduced that the extension division would be unable to run because of lack of administrative officers.

As the April Popular Mechanics says, "This thing of economy is not so simple a matter as it seems. No one questions the urgent need for it. The popular cry that has arisen for reduction of governmental expenditures echoes only the painful necessity that most of us have experienced in our own affairs. Unquestionably there has been inexcusable extravagance in the use of public funds. But when, in the dying session of the last congress, Rep. LaGuardia, of New York halted a slashing attack on research appropriations for the department of agriculture, he raised a question as to the real nature of economy which demands consideration. There are so-called economizers who think only in terms of saving dollars, and not at all in those of conserving values that come from the expenditure of dollars on productive enterprises. Cutting out expenditures is only one phase of economy, and the least important. Another, and vastly more important phase, is the wise expenditure of dollars. Often it is more economical to spend than to save. For example, it is more economical to spend what is necessary to mend a leaky roof, than to save the money and let the leak grow and the rain ruin costly walls and furnishings. It is more economical to spend money on education and research, than to save it and lose in precious opportunity and discovery. Last year the University of Illinois saved the industries and citizens of that state $124,000,000 as a result of its research work—more than the total receipts of the state treasury. Consider what folly it would be to cut appropriations for such service as a measure of economy."

If the University of California is to be saved from becoming a second rate institution and the state is to be saved from the material and moral loss which this would involve, you should at once strongly protest this drastic cut to your assemblyman and senator.

Sincerely yours,
H. M. Shadle

MRS. DON McQUEEN CHARMING HOSTESS AT CARD PARTY

Mrs. Donald Dugan McQueen entertained a group of friends Thursday evening at her home on Central avenue. The guests enjoyed a pleasant evening of bridge, followed by a delicious luncheon.

The table had been beautifully decorated in pink, yellow and green. A centerpiece of delicate spring blossoms of pink and yellow, with greenery added, contributed to the harmony of the appointments, as did tall pink tapers. Nut cups, napkins and fancy caps were of harmonizing colors.

Prizes for high scores in bridge were awarded to Mrs. William Ohlen and Mrs. Horace Lea. Mrs. E. B. Scott earned the consolation prize.

turned Friday afternoon from a two-weeks vacation spent at interesting points in Death Valley.

REDBUDS ABLOOM AT CLEAR LAKE

The redbud, one of the first flowering and loveliest shrubs of spring, is now in blossom at various points in the state, according to the National Automobile club.

In Lake county the buds are just coming out, while in the vicinity of Winters and Putah Creek, they have reached their height. From Yosemite valley comes the report that the Redbud is now in blossom along the walls of the lower Merced canyon, and large masses of magenta color have appeared since the recent rains which promise one of the most spectacular flower displays in California.

Walter H. Stray was re-elected fire commissioner for the Campbell fire district at their annual election Monday, April 3. He was elected for a three-year term. Other members of the board are E. C. Merrill and Horace Lea.
